

LOSS HALF A MILLION

Twenty-two Buildings at Desdemona, Texas, Destroyed by Flames—Had No Fire Apparatus.

FORT WORTH, Texas, July 24.—A bank, three hotels and two drug stores were destroyed by fire which swept three blocks of the business district of Desdemona, in the Texas oil fields. The loss was estimated at half a million dollars. In all 22 business establishments were destroyed. The fire started in a vacant restaurant building at 3:30 o'clock this morning and was not brought under control until nearly noon today. No fire fighting equipment is available at Desdemona, formerly known as Hog Town, and dynamite was used to flatten out buildings in the path of the fire. No one was injured.

LATE PATHE NEWS WEEKLY

MAJESTIC

Beginning Today!

ANNIVERSARY WEEK!

The utmost care has been exercised in the selection of the Birthday program at the Majestic this week, and more than thirty new productions have been critically reviewed.

While many were extraordinary offerings, "Below The Surface" with Hobart Bosworth was chosen for its unusual excellence and dramatic worth. It is unquestionably one of the greatest photo-dramas ever made; its story is powerfully felt, and the undersea scenes are simply astounding.

I am sure that no matter how great your expectations are, you will not be disappointed in "Below The Surface."
